VERMONT MEDICAL SOCIETY RESOLUTION

Aligning Vermont’s Prescribed Products Gift Ban with Federal Law

Adopted November 5, 2016

Whereas, Relationships among physicians and professional medical organizations and pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device companies help drive innovation in patient care and contribute to the economic well-being of the community to the ultimate benefit of patients and the public; however, an increasingly urgent challenge for both medicine and industry is to devise ways to preserve strong, productive collaborations at the same time that they take clear effective action to prevent relationships that damage public trust and tarnish the reputation of both parties; and

Whereas, Gifts to physicians from industry create conditions that carry the risk of subtly biasing—or being perceived to bias—professional judgment in the care of patients, even small gifts such as a single meal provided to a prescribing physician; and

Whereas, the Vermont Medical Society 1992 Policy on Accepting Gifts states, in part:

Gifts, hospitality or subsidies offered to physicians by industry ought not to be accepted if acceptance might influence the objectivity of clinical judgement.

Any gift accepted by physicians should primarily entail a benefit to patients and should not be of substantial value.

Subsidies for hospitality should not be accepted outside of modest meals or social events held as part of a conference or meeting.

Whereas, The Sunshine Act/Open Payments Program is a national disclosure requirement overseen by the Centers for Medicaid and Medicare Services (CMS) that began in 2013 and promotes transparency by publishing data on the financial relationships between the healthcare manufacturing industry and healthcare providers, including physicians; and

Whereas, Under Open Payments, manufacturers of a drug, device, biological, or medical supplies have to report to CMS many payments or transfers of value to physicians of $10 or more; however, exceptions not subject to reporting include:

- Certified and accredited continuing medical education (CME) that adheres to standards of independence and
- “[B]uffet meals, snacks, soft drinks or coffee generally available to all participants of a large-scale conference or similar large-scale event,” such as at industry trade shows, where it would be difficult for applicable manufacturers to definitively establish the identities of the physicians who partake in the food or beverage; and

Whereas, State policies should not discourage physicians from attending high-quality, accredited continuing medical education (CME); to take advantage of the growing array of diagnostic and treatment options, physicians must continually update their medical knowledge and practice skills;

Whereas, a separate Vermont law bans most gifts and requires reporting of most expenditures from manufacturers of pharmaceutical products, biological products, and medical devices made to Vermont health care clinicians;*

Whereas, Vermont law allows manufacturers to sponsor accredited CME programs and for accredited CME providers to “provide meals and other food for all conference participants” yet requires reporting the value of the food provided and only exempts from reporting “coffee or other snacks or refreshments at a booth at a conference or seminar;”

Whereas, inconsistencies between Vermont law and the national Open Payments Law has created confusion for physicians, CME providers and manufacturers;

Whereas, Vermont physicians have been both singled out for reporting and also refused food and beverage at out-of-state CME conferences; now therefore be it

RESOLVED, The Vermont Medical Society reaffirms its policy that gifts, hospitality or subsidies offered to physicians by industry ought not to be accepted if acceptance might influence the objectivity of clinical judgement; and be it further

RESOLVED, The Vermont Medical Society will advocate for aligning Vermont’s Prescribed Products Gift Ban and Disclosure Law with the federal Open Payments Law’s requirements, including an exception for reporting buffet meals, snacks, soft drinks or coffee generally available to all participants of a large-scale conference or similar large-scale event.
